You are only covered for events that occur during the period of insurance. The cover is subject to the terms and conditions including limits and excess(es) in the policy.

Types of Home Insurance we can provide

Australian Seniors can provide building and/or contents insurance for the home you live in as well as for landlord properties you own but do not live in.

If you are insuring the building and/or contents for the home you live in, there are two cover options:

- Essential cover – our basic option; or
- Top cover.

See pages 12 – 45 for further details on both of these covers.

If you are insuring a landlord property you own, we have landlords cover for your buildings and/or contents. See pages 12 – 43 for further detail on this cover.

Your Certificate of Insurance will show the type of cover(s) you have been provided with and whether you are insuring a building you live in or a landlord property you own but do not live in.

To properly understand what you are covered for and the applicable terms and conditions you need to read this PDS (and any other documents that form part of your policy) in full as well as your Certificate of Insurance. Please note that if you wish to change your cover options during the period of insurance you need to contact us to request this.

What is your 'building'?

This is the building as defined below which is located at the site listed on your Certificate of Insurance.

For the purpose of this insurance your 'building' is defined as a fully enclosed structure with walls and a roof used primarily for residential purposes that can be locked up. It includes any fixtures or home improvements at the site, secured outbuildings (such as your garage) and other domestic structural improvements on your site that comply with local government or other statutory requirements.

Your building insurance covers your building for the Insured events shown on pages 12 – 19.

Additional benefits included in your building cover are detailed on pages 23 – 30 of this PDS.

Your building does not include:

- a new building while it is under construction;
- carpets, carpet tiles, floating floors, floor rugs, internal blinds or curtains (these are contents);
- temporary or mobile structures, including caravans and trailers;
- above-ground swimming pools or portable spas;
- items within the building that are not fixed;
- any wharf, jetty or pontoon;
- lawns, artificial grass and landscaping, other than the limited cover provided in the building Additional benefits section (see page 29); or
- property that a tenant is liable for under the terms of a rental agreement.

What are your 'contents'?

For the purpose of this insurance, 'contents' has different definitions depending on whether the contents are in the building you live in or whether they are landlord's contents specifically for the use of your tenant.

Contents (in the home you live in):

Contents means any household goods or personal belongings, usually kept in your home or on site where your home is located, that you own or are legally responsible for. If your building is also insured by your policy we will consider building materials on site due to be installed within the insured building (including items such as cupboards or sinks) as contents.

Your contents insurance covers your contents in your home for the Insured events shown on pages 12 – 19.

Additional benefits included in your contents cover are detailed on pages 23 – 26 and 31 – 39 of this PDS.

There are limits to the amount we pay for contents claims. The fixed limits that apply are detailed on page 9 and other limits may be noted on your Certificate of Insurance or in this PDS.

Your contents do not include:

- gas and electrical appliances, light fittings and alarm systems that are built-in and permanently connected to the gas or electricity supply, or underbench dishwashers (these are part of your building);
- trees, shrubs, hedges or other plant life including lawns, artificial grass and landscaping (limited cover is provided if your building is insured under this policy);

- unset precious and semi-precious stones;
- animals;
- motorised vehicles (other than lawnmowers and wheelchairs), go-carts, caravans and trailers, or any of the parts or accessories for these vehicles including GPS units designed for use in vehicles;
- non-motorised watercraft greater than 3 metres, motorised watercraft, aircraft and hang gliders and/or their parts and accessories; and
- tools of trade (other than the limited cover provided under the Additional benefit 'Tools of trade'), stock in trade or items used in connection with a business.

Some items of contents have fixed limits which represent the maximum we provide cover up to.

These items are:	Essential cover contents limits	Top cover contents limits
Cash and documents that are able to be cashed	$250 for each Insured event	$500 for each Insured event
Non-motorised bicycles	$1,000 each	$2,000 each
Portable musical instruments	$1,000 each	$2,000 each
Licensed and registered firearms (stored according to the law)	$1,000 for each Insured event	$2,000 for each Insured event

Some items of contents have flexible limits

Cover for items in each of the three groups on the next page have limits per group for each Insured event and $1,000 per item/collection. You can increase these per item limits by advising us and having items individually listed, with their value, on your Certificate of Insurance.

You do not pay any extra to have these items individually listed where they are already included in your total contents sum insured. If you have an item or collection that is valued at more than $1,000 or a number of items together worth more than the below limits, that fall within one of the three groups, you must tell us about them and ensure that they are correctly listed on your Certificate of Insurance or you will not have full cover. Cover is provided up to the amount stated in each column.

If you need to insure items away from your home see the Optional benefit 'Portable valuables' on pages 44 – 45.

Note: There is no cover for jewellery that is insured for more than $20,000 while it is not being worn unless it is kept in a locked and fixed safe in the home.

These items are grouped as:	Essential cover contents limits	Top cover contents limits
Valuables – items such as jewellery, watches and silver and gold items; Collectables – items such as loose carpets and rugs, artwork including paintings, pictures, sculptures, art objects and curios and collections of coins, stamps and other memorabilia; Media – items such as a collection of CDs, DVDs, records, tapes, computer games and software.	$1,000 per item/collection with a maximum of $2,500 per group, for each Insured event	$1,000 per item/collection with a maximum of $5,000 per group, for each Insured event

Landlords 'contents':

Contents means the following property in the building that:

- belongs to you;
- is provided by you specifically for the use of your tenant; and
- is not listed under 'Landlords contents do not include items such as' below.

Landlords contents is limited to:

- building materials; and
- items belonging to you or any other person, which are being stored at the site.

Premiums explained

What is your premium?

Your premium is the amount of money you agree to pay us for your policy.

How much do I pay?

When you apply and we agree to provide you with cover, or we renew your cover, we will advise you of the premium amount which we will confirm on your Certificate of Insurance.

How do we calculate your premiums?

Your premium is calculated based on a number of criteria, such as:

- the cover you choose;
- the property and the site you want to insure;
- the limits and excesses that will apply;
- your insurance history.

We will also look at other factors that increase or decrease the risk of a claim and factors that affect our business costs.

Minimum premiums apply which could reduce any discount you may be entitled to.

Your premium will also include amounts covering government charges, taxes or levies we are responsible for, such as GST and Stamp Duty. This information will be shown on your Certificate of Insurance.

Your responsibilities

Paying your premium

You need to make sure your premium payment(s) are up to date. If they are not, we may cancel your policy in accordance with the law.

If any premium instalment remains unpaid for 14 days or more, we may also refuse to pay a claim.

It is important that you contact us if your bank or credit card details change.

In the event of a total loss claim where you were paying your premium by instalments, we will deduct the remaining balance of your yearly premium from the claim settlement sum.

Duty of Disclosure

Before you enter into the policy with us, you have a duty of disclosure under the Insurance Contracts Act 1984. This duty is different the first time you enter into a contract with us to when you vary, extend or renew the contract. It applies until we agree to insure you (or until the contract is varied, extended or renewed as applicable).

Duty of disclosure when you enter into the policy for the first time with us

We may ask you questions that are relevant to our decision to insure you and on what terms. If we do, you must provide us with the information we need to enable us to decide whether and on what terms your proposal for insurance is acceptable and to calculate how much premium is required for your insurance. You must be honest and disclose to us anything that you know and that a reasonable person in the circumstances would include in the answers to the questions. It is important that you understand that you are answering for yourself and anyone else to whom these questions apply.

Duty of disclosure when you vary, extend or reinstate the policy

You are required to provide us with the information you know, or could reasonably be expected to know, that we need to enable us to decide whether and on what terms to accept the risk.

Duty of disclosure when you renew the policy

We may ask you questions that are relevant to our decision to insure you and on what terms. You must tell us anything that you know and that a reasonable person in the circumstances would include in answering the questions.

We may also provide you with a copy of anything you have previously told us and ask you to tell us if it has changed. If we do this, you must tell us about any change or tell us that there are no changes. If you do not tell us about a change to something you have previously told us, you will be taken to have told us that there is no change. You have this duty until we agree to renew the contract.

Non-disclosure

If the Duty of Disclosure is not complied with we may cancel the policy and/or reduce the amount we pay if you make a claim. If fraud is involved we may refuse to pay a claim and treat the policy as if it never existed.

Full details of the Duty of Disclosure are available free of charge by calling us on 13 13 43 or you can view it any time at seniors.com.au

Work out how much insurance you need

Many people do not have enough insurance cover for their building or contents. If you are under-insured, you will have to cover any shortfall yourself. For example:

- if the amount your building is insured for is not equal to the full cost of rebuilding it, including the cost of any structural improvements such as carports, fences and pools, as well as the cost of any demolition work, removal of debris and any architectural or council fees (other than the limited cover provided by the Additional benefit), you may be under-insured. The cost of land is not, however, included in determining your sum insured.
- if your contents sum insured is not enough to allow for the full replacement of all your contents, including your furniture, clothes, linen and personal valuables such as jewellery, you may be under-insured.

Under insurance of homes is a significant issue. You should spend time to assess your needs as we cannot advise you on the amount of cover you should insure for.

We strongly recommend you use a home building calculator. An example can be found at seniors.com.au/building-calculator

Remember, this insurance only provides cover up to the applicable limits specified in this PDS and on your Certificate of Insurance.

Review the replacement value of your property regularly

Each year at your insurance renewal, we may adjust the amount you are insured for to help the cover keep pace with inflation. In addition to this adjustment, you may also need to consider (amongst other things) the value of any new contents or recently completed improvements to your home.

If you do not review the replacement value of your building and contents annually and increase your cover where appropriate, you may be or remain under-insured. Remember, any items you individually list on your Certificate of Insurance will remain insured for the values you originally advised to us unless you specifically ask us to increase them.

Change of occupancy type during the period of insurance

If the occupancy of your building changes from a home you live in to a Landlord property you own but do not live in, or vice versa, you will need to contact us so we can change your building and/or contents cover accordingly subject to our underwriting criteria. If you do not, we may reduce or refuse to pay a claim and cancel the policy.

Interests of others in your building and contents

You must tell us of any other party that has an ownership or financial interest in your building and contents as they may need to be noted on your policy for their interest. No party is covered for their interest unless we note them. If a credit provider is noted on your Certificate of Insurance as having an interest in your building and/or contents and your claim is paid on a cash basis, we have the option of making this payment to the credit provider in full or part payment of the claim.

More than one insured person

If there is more than one insured named on your Certificate of Insurance we will treat a statement, act, omission, claim or request to alter or cancel your policy made by one insured as coming from all of those named as insured.

Paperless correspondence

We prefer to communicate with you by email or other electronic channels. You are responsible for making sure you provide us with your correct and up to date email address. However if you do not want to receive correspondence electronically, let us know.

We will consider any policy documents we send to you electronically to have been received by you 24 hours from when we sent them.

Keep proof of ownership of your property

When you make a claim for loss or damage to an item we will require satisfactory proof that you owned the item and of its value or your claim may not be paid. The easiest way to do this is by keeping documents related to the item.

The types of documents we ask for depend on the situation and may include:

- purchase receipts;
- valuation certificates (provided by an Australian qualified valuer);
- credit card or bank statements;
- instruction manuals;
- guarantee or warranty certificates; and
- photographs or video/digital film of the item.

When building work is carried out

Please note that if you carry out building alterations, renovations or additions the cover provided under your policy is restricted.

If you plan to carry out building alterations, renovations or additions to your home with a total value of $50,000 or more you will need to contact us and inform us of the changes. We will confirm whether cover, subject to the exclusions below, can be extended during your renovation period.

Below we have highlighted the exclusions that apply when building works are underway. You are not covered for:

- loss or damage caused by water entering your home due to building alterations, renovations or additions;
- loss or damage as a result of theft or attempted theft by a person who is on the site with your consent or the consent of another person also residing at the property;
- loss or damage due to theft or attempted theft or where the building security has been compromised due to the works being carried out;
- legal liability in respect to any loss or damage caused by or as a consequence of the building renovations alterations and/or additions if the total value of the project is greater than $50,000; and
- accidental damage caused by or as a consequence of the building alterations, renovations or additions.

Your policy will not cover you for loss or damage caused by the works or damage to the works. If you need cover you may need to take out a separate insurance product with another insurer. We and Australian Seniors do not provide this cover.

Keep your building and contents in good condition and well maintained

You must take reasonable steps to maintain your building and contents in a good state of repair and condition.

This includes but is not limited to taking reasonable steps to:

- ensure that the building is watertight, structurally sound and secure;
- ensure that gutters, downpipes and roof valleys are not clogged with debris and are not rusted, loose, falling down or missing;
- ensure that floors, walls or ceilings are intact and secure and that any damage to these items and any other parts of the building that are not the subject of a claim under this policy are repaired;
- comply with all statutory obligations, government or local authority regulations and by-laws; and
- ensure that all building maintenance or repairs to the building and/or contents are undertaken by an appropriately qualified person or licensed tradesmen.

Any loss or damage or liability or costs or expenses arising from your failure to take reasonable steps to maintain your building and contents in a good state of repair and condition will not be covered under the policy. You must also make reasonable efforts to protect your building and contents from any loss or damage. If you make a claim and knew about something that could cause loss or damage to your building or contents and you did not make reasonable efforts to avoid it before the loss or damage occurred, then your claim may not be paid. If you do suffer loss or damage to your building or contents, you must also make reasonable efforts to prevent any further loss or damage.

When your home is temporarily unoccupied

You must ensure your building is maintained while unoccupied. The maximum period your building can be unoccupied for during the period of insurance is 90 consecutive days. At any time when your building is unoccupied you need to ensure the home is maintained in a lived-in state by:

- keeping the lawns mowed and garden tidy;
- stopping regular mail and newspaper deliveries; and
- arranging for someone to check inside and outside your home at least once a week.

Have a property inspection/condition report completed – Landlords cover only

You or your agent must complete a detailed property inspection/condition report:

- when a new lease or rental agreement commences;
- when an existing tenant vacates the property; or
- on an annual basis if there is a long term tenancy.

If you make a claim we may ask you for copies of relevant documents including property inspection/condition reports (for Landlords cover only).

Making a claim

In the event of a claim it is good to understand the process so you know what to do and what to expect. Our claims team will support and guide you through the claim process.

What to do in the event of a claim

1	Secure your building and contents Do what you can to prevent further loss, damage, cost or liability.
2	Report the incident Report the incident or loss to the police immediately if the claim involves theft, attempted theft, malicious acts, civil unrest or impact by a vehicle and obtain an event number.
3	Claim online or call Start your claim by registering your account and logging in to seniors.com.au/my-account or you can call our claims lodgement team on 13 13 43 for assistance with claiming.

Do not:

- admit guilt, fault or liability except to the police;
- offer or negotiate to pay any claim;
- approve any repairs, except essential repairs needed to minimise or prevent further loss or damage; or
- dispose of any damaged property.

Assessing your claim

After you have lodged a claim with us we will assess it. When we are doing this, we may ask you for reasonable information and assistance to help with the process, including as set out below.

We may ask you for:

- a face-to-face or telephone interview;
- written statements under oath;
- relevant documents including property inspection/condition reports (for Landlords cover only);
- proof of value and ownership that we need regarding lost or damaged items, such as receipts, invoices, bank or credit card statements, contracts of sale or original photographs;
- details of any other insurance that relates to the claim.

We will require you to:

- let us see or take possession of any damaged property;
 - keep items that have been damaged and allow us to inspect them or assess repair costs;
 - make your building and contents available for inspection by us or an assessor or agent appointed by us or when diagnosis is required;
 - send us any communication you receive about the claim from anyone else (including letters of demand and communication about court proceedings); and
 - do everything you can to help us to negotiate, defend or settle your claim or to recover costs from another party responsible for the loss or damage to your building and contents.

Claims for your building

If your building is insured and a building claim is covered under your policy, we will settle up to the sum for which your building is insured, or any lesser limit that applies, less any applicable excess. The payment amount may also be adjusted in accordance with the GST provisions in this document. If your building is destroyed or damaged as a result of an Insured event covered under this policy and occurs during the period of insurance, and if it is reasonably practicable, we will rebuild or repair your building as new. If this is not reasonably practicable, we will pay you a reasonable amount to cover the cost of rebuilding or repairing your building as new. The maximum amount payable is the building sum insured shown on your Certificate of Insurance.

However, if you decide not to proceed with the rebuild or repair of your building we will pay you the reasonable amount to cover the cost of rebuilding or repairing your building as new, or the building sum insured, whichever is lesser.

Excesses and other deductions may be applied to these settlements.

We will do our best to source materials that are the same type, standard and specification as the original materials that require replacing. Where these materials are not available in Australia we will source and/or pay for the costs of materials that are of a similar kind or quality. When this occurs and where the damaged part of the building is an item listed in the table on page 65, then the Matching Benefit as referenced on pages 64 – 70 will apply.

If you are not satisfied with the materials we find to be of a similar kind or quality and we have not commenced the repairs to your building, you may request to:

- pay any extra costs of replacing the undamaged parts of your building with the original materials to achieve a uniform appearance; or
- request we pay you what it would have reasonably cost us to repair or replace the damaged part and you can organise the repairs yourself.

Claims for your contents

If your contents are insured and a contents claim is covered under your policy, we will settle up to the sum for which your contents are insured, or any lesser limit that applies to the item, group of items or event, less any applicable excess. The payment amount may also be adjusted in accordance with the GST provisions in this document.

If your contents are lost or damaged by an Insured event which occurs during the period of insurance, we will repair or replace any lost or damaged item if it is reasonably practicable for us to do so. If this is not reasonably practicable, we will pay you the amount it would reasonably cost you to repair or replace the item or to replace it with its nearest equivalent.

If you would like to receive a cash settlement instead of us repairing or replacing your contents, then we will pay you the amount it will cost us to repair or replace the item, or to replace it with its nearest equivalent.

The nearest equivalent will be determined having regard to the content's make, model, specification, cost, capacity and functionality.

If the lost or damaged item is part of a pair or collection, we will only pay for the repair or replacement of the damaged or lost item. We will not pay for any resulting decrease in the value of the collection.

Repairs or replacement of your contents

What is covered	Conditions
Contents (in the home you live in) Replacement is on a new for old basis, but this does not apply to computers more than four years old, or to any clothing, shoes or household linen or items out of use, such as those stored away in cupboards. For these items we will pay the reasonable market value based on their age and condition at the time of loss. Landlords contents Replacement is on a new for old basis but does not apply to second-hand furniture or electrical items which were more than three years old at the time that they came into your possession.	We will repair or replace your contents with new items or new materials that are available at the time of repair or replacement from Australian suppliers within Australia. If we cannot source items or materials that are of the same type, standard or specification as the original materials, we will repair or replace to a similar kind or quality as if it were new or we will pay the reasonable replacement cost. When this occurs and where the damaged part of the contents is an item listed in the table on page 65, then the Matching Benefit as referenced on pages 64 – 70 will apply. We can replace with a different brand provided it is of similar kind or quality as the original. We will not pay any extra cost of replacing or purchasing an extended warranty on any item or provide any items of a better standard, specification or quality than as if it were new.

Matching Benefit

This section only applies to claims for the parts of your building and/or contents that are listed on page 65.

We outline on the next page what is covered and what is not covered under the Matching Benefit. In addition, there are policy 'General exclusions' on pages 46 – 49 that may apply.

To make things easier, we have given you some examples on pages 66 – 70 of how your claim settlement may be calculated based on some common scenarios our claims team encounter. Please note that any actual claim settlement will be based on the individual circumstances of your claim.

What is covered	What you are not covered for
If the claim for loss or damage due to an Insured event is covered under the policy, we may also provide coverage to replace certain undamaged materials in the same functional area or room to create a uniform appearance. This is referred to as a Matching Benefit. We will only provide this Matching Benefit where we are unable to source original materials, or materials that are the same type, standard or specification. We will only match undamaged parts to the damaged parts within a functional area or room, if they are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ continuously joined; and ■ on the same level or floor of your building; and ■ made of the same material. Where this Matching Benefit may apply, we may need to add a new separator, such as a floor trim, between two or more functional areas or rooms if damage is sustained to one functional area alone. This Matching Benefit is restricted to the following undamaged materials in the same functional area or room where the damage occurred to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ wall coverings ■ wall tiles ■ floor coverings ■ fixed cabinets 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ loss or damage that occurs to any areas or items that are not defined or listed under the section 'What is covered'. ■ costs to repair or replace undamaged materials in any adjoining functional areas or rooms. ■ costs to repair or replace undamaged items on different levels or floors of your building. ■ costs to repair or replace undamaged garage doors, roof tiles, roof sheeting and external walls. We will only replace the damaged items, even if the undamaged items are different and do not match the new ones used for repairs.

What we mean by functional area or room

Functional area or room

Areas inside your building that are separated by walls, floors, and a ceiling or used for an isolated purpose. It starts and finishes at the nearest functional area, wall, nearest doorway, archway or similar opening and/or a change in the floor or wall covering.

A passageway, hallway, stairs or corridor has the same definition as a functional area or room.

The example below shows what we mean by a functional area or room. The living room is one room, separated from the bathroom as there is a doorway and a change in floor covering from carpet to tiles. The living room is also separated from the study as there are two different uses for the two rooms and there is also an archway between the two rooms.

Matching Benefit – Example 1

If there was damage to the flooring at the spot marked 'X' in the living room, we would only repair or replace the flooring within this functional area. In this scenario, we may need to introduce a floor trim between the study and living room as per the red line, since the damage is contained within the living room alone.

Combined rooms

Areas inside your building, excluding any outdoor areas, that have connecting rooms with identical wall and floor coverings which are shared by a common opening, such as a doorway or archway. Combined rooms will always have two or more functional areas or rooms. If there is damage to one functional area of a combined room, we will only match the sections within the damaged functional area of the combined room. In doing so, we may need to introduce a new separation such as a floor trim between the two or more functional areas.

The example below shows what we mean by a combined room. The dining room and living room is a combined room, however, it has two separate functional areas. This is because while it has the same wall and floor coverings, the room is used for two different purposes being dining and casual living. There are two separate uses for these two functional areas because there is a dining table in the dining room and there is a couch in the living room.

The dining room and living room is separated from the kitchen as there is a change in floor coverings.

Matching Benefit – Example 2

If there was damage to the flooring at the spot marked 'X' in the dining room, we would only repair or replace the flooring within this functional area up to the red line. In this scenario, we may need to introduce a floor trim between the dining room and living room along the red line.

Stairs

The example below shows a sunken living room which is separated by a step from the hallway. These two functional areas are separated because they are on two different levels and used for two different purposes.

Matching Benefit – Example 3

If there was damage to the flooring at the spot marked 'X' in the sunken living room, we would only repair or replace the flooring within this functional area up to the red line. In this scenario, we may need to introduce floor trims at the base of the steps along the red lines.

Open plan areas

Areas inside your building that continue until separated by a functional area, a different floor or wall covering and/or the nearest wall, doorway, archway or similar opening.

The example below shows an open plan area which has three separate functional areas being a kitchen, a study room and a dining room. This is because there is a stove and sink in the kitchen, a dining table and chairs in the dining room and there is an office desk and chair in the study room. This is an open plan area because all three rooms have the same wall and floor coverings and are not separated by any walls, openings or archways.

Matching Benefit – Example 4

If there was damage to the flooring at the spot marked 'X' in the dining room, we would only repair or replace the flooring within this functional area up to the red line. In this scenario, we may need to introduce a floor trim along the red line.

Example - What we mean by continuously joined; on the same level or floor of your building; and made of the same material.

In this example of a kitchen, we would treat areas 1, 2, 3 and 4 as separate sections because they are not continuously joined or on the same level. If there was damage to section 1 alone, we would only pay to repair or replace this section of your kitchen. In sections 2 and 3, the oven breaks the two areas of cabinetry. If there was damage to section 3 alone, we would not repair or replace section 2.

How claims impact your insurance

After we pay a claim under your policy, other than a claim for a total loss, the amount you are insured for will remain the same as the value shown on your Certificate of Insurance at the date of loss.

If a claim is paid for any item individually listed on your Certificate of Insurance, that item will be removed from your policy and you will have to notify us to add the replacement item and pay any additional premium if required. If a claim is for the total loss of your building or contents, your insurance will cease as soon as we accept liability. No premium refund is due if you have paid your premium annually. If you are paying your premium monthly, we will deduct the remaining balance of your yearly premium from your claim settlement sum. You will need to contact us if you want to apply for a new policy for the building and/or contents you replace.

If there is a mortgage over your property

If a mortgagee (usually your bank or credit provider) is noted on your Certificate of Insurance and you have a claim which is covered and settled on a cash basis, we will, if legally obligated, make this payment to the mortgagee in full or part settlement of your claim. In this situation, we will pay the mortgagee the amount we pay to settle the claim, up to the amount outstanding under your mortgage. We only cover your interest in the insured property, unless we specifically include cover for the interest of a third party.

Understanding your excess

The excess is the amount you are required to pay or bear when you make a claim under your policy. Your policy excesses are explained in the PDS and are shown on your Certificate of Insurance.

Excess types

There are different types of excesses, depending on what your claim relates to and the type of cover you have chosen. Basic excess is the amount you have chosen for your building and/or contents excess on your policy. You will need to pay this on each claim made under your policy, unless otherwise specified.

You will find the amount of each excess on your Certificate of Insurance.

If you have a claim for an earthquake or flood you will be subject to the higher of your selected basic excess or a fixed excess of $500 for each event.

Landlords claims made under:

- the Additional benefit cover for 'Malicious acts and theft by tenants' will be subject to the higher of either your selected basic excess or a fixed excess of $500 for each event.
- the Optional benefit cover for 'rent default and legal expenses' will be subject to a fixed excess of $400.

If you take the Optional benefit for either 'Electrical motor burnout' or 'Portable valuables' cover a fixed excess of $100 applies for any claim made under this benefit. Your selected basic excess does not apply for this benefit.

When to contact us

Changing your cover

We understand that your circumstances may change. If this occurs we need you to contact us promptly to apply to amend cover during the period of insurance. It is important to note that if you make a request to amend your cover this may affect your premium.

You must also comply with your 'Duty of Disclosure' (see pages 51 – 52).

Any proposed changes to your cover will be subject to acceptance.

Renewing your policy

1	To ensure continuing protection we will send you a renewal offer at least 14 days prior to the renewal date of the policy. It will set out information such as the premium and excess for the new period, and any fees that may apply, information you have previously told us and may also include notice of any proposed changes to the terms of the policy to be renewed.
2	Where you receive a renewal offer, you must tell us if the information contained in it is incorrect or incomplete and you must continue to comply with your 'Duty of Disclosure' (see pages 51 – 52). If you do not we may reduce or refuse to pay a claim or cancel the renewed policy.
3	If you do not wish to proceed with a renewal, or if you need to disclose any further information to us, please just call us at least 2 days before the renewal date. Unless you tell us you do not wish to proceed with renewal, we will automatically deduct/charge the renewal premium from your nominated account/credit card. You also have a 14 day cooling off period following the renewal of your policy that allows you to cancel your policy and receive a refund of the premium paid (see the 14 day cooling off period for further information). You can also still cancel after the 14 day cooling off period (see Cancelling your policy for further information).
4	If we do not offer to renew your policy, we will send you a notice telling you this.

Each renewal is a separate policy, not an extension of the prior policy. Your cooling off period will apply on each renewal.

This PDS (together with any amendments, updates or endorsements) also applies to any offer of renewal we make, unless we tell you otherwise or issue you with a new updated PDS or Supplementary PDS amending the PDS terms.

Cancelling your policy

If you want to cancel

You may cancel your policy by contacting us.

If you paid an annual premium, we will refund the full amount, less:

- the amount covering the period you were insured for;
- government or statutory charges we are unable to recover.

If you pay your premium by monthly instalments we will not provide a refund.

When we may cancel your policy

We may cancel your policy where permitted by and in accordance with the law. For example, if you:

- do not comply with the policy terms and conditions;
- do not pay your premium as agreed;
- make a fraudulent claim;
- did not comply with your Duty of Disclosure; or
- misrepresented information when you entered into your policy.

If we pay a claim for a total loss, your policy comes to an end and there is no refund of premium.
